SYNOPSIS

Public Relations Practice and Techniques provides advanced professional preparation for students in public relations. The course builds on theory and practice taught previously in the major. As public relations professionals, students need to understand salient public relations theories and practices, how public relations strategies originate and their usefulness and shortcomings in explaining, predicting and organising public relations campaigns.

OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of this course students will be able to:

- explain and apply key public relations and related theories;
- describe, explain and apply public relations campaign planning processes;
- describe the strengths and weaknesses of key contemporary public relations practices in the context of their applicability to various industrial problems;
- describe and apply research in the design, application and evaluation of an applied public relations project;
- describe and apply public relations strategies and tools/tactics and be able to differentiate the strategic from the technical;
- conduct their own systematic and comprehensive study of a campaign in which the concepts and theories in this course are embedded.
