OTHER-REQUISITES

Pre-requisite: Associate level membership or above, of the National Institute of Accountants.

SYNOPSIS

This course primarily deals with the process by which the external company auditor, within the Australian professional and legal framework, independently appraises and reports on the truth and fairness of the company's financial statements. The course is practice-oriented and, in keeping with current trends in the auditing profession, a risk-based audit approach is emphasised. The course covers the audit of computerised systems as well as selected manual accounting systems.

OBJECTIVES

Completion of this course should enable students to:

1. explain the need for an independent audit;
2. appreciate the various auditing standards and procedures and the application of these to the conduct of an audit;
3. follow the development of case law and statute law in respect of the definition of the auditor's responsibilities;
4. appreciate the audit process, beginning with the planning phase, through the documentation stages, to the testing (interim and final), evaluation and reporting stages;
5. appreciate the concepts of internal controls and audit testing procedures;
6. understand the principles and application of audit sampling techniques;
7. appreciate the internal controls associated with the audit of computer information systems;
8. decide on the appropriateness of different types of audit reports and prepare such audit reports.
