RATIONALE

This course provides an opportunity for students to study in some depth some of the key issues currently influencing post-compulsory education in Australia. Students choose from a number of options to ensure that the issues studied are relevant to their own work situations and interests, and an emphasis is given where possible to studying the issue in the context of the student's own work environment. In this way, students develop a deep understanding of how the issue relates to and affects them. Students also have the opportunity to develop a better understanding of the issues affecting educational sectors other than that in which they currently work. Students will leave the course better prepared to operate effectively as a professional in the developing education system.
