RATIONALE

Increasing demands for quality systems and accountability have made it essential that all persons involved in education be knowledgeable about and competent in the effective use of evaluation approaches, procedures and techniques as they might be applied to educational programs, particularly those delivered in flexible learning modes. This course serves this purpose.

SYNOPSIS

This course introduces learners to the theory and practices of educational program evaluation. They will be required to understand the concept of education evaluation and related concepts such as assessment and research, understand about different approaches to and models of educational evaluation, be aware of ethical issues in the process of evaluation, understand the concepts of validity and reliability, select and justify appropriate data gathering devices and data analysis strategies for the conduct of evaluations, and understand the special case of evaluation in a flexible learning educational environment. NOTES: 1. This course (FET8602) is available through INTERNET DELIVERY ONLY. There are NO print materials for this course. 2. For details of the technical requirements and accessing Internet study materials, please consult the following URL: <http://usqconnect.usq.edu.au> 3. Students enrolling in this course are required to have first-hand knowledge of and access to an actual instructional situation. IMPORTANT NOTE: Working with Children: State law in Queensland requires that all adults (including university students, pre-service educators, trainers, vocational teachers, industry educators) working with children under the age of 18, in the state of Queensland*, obtain approval before commencing such work. Many education courses include a practical component (professional experience, project work, research, assessment etc..) that may require engagement with children under the age of 18. It is your responsibility to ensure that you possess a current suitability card (Blue Card) before commencing any practical components of this course. DO NOT PARTICIPATE IN ANY PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE WITH CHILDREN UNDER 18 UNLESS YOU POSSESS A CURRENT 'BLUE CARD'. For further information: <http://www.childcomm.qld.gov.au/employment/bluecard/informationSheets.html>. *If you are undertaking practical experience outside the state of Queensland, Australia you should check local requirements.

OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of this course students will be able to effectively evaluate educational innovations. To carry out such evaluations students will be able to:

1. define the concept of educational evaluation and distinguish it from related concepts
2. develop an appropriate approach and model for conducting educational evaluations and the special case of evaluations in a flexible learning environment
3. understand the concepts of validity and reliability and how they apply to evaluation
4. understand the principles behind the construction of instruments appropriate for collecting data necessary for an evaluation
5. understand the principles behind data analysis in the context of both qualitative and quantitative evaluations
6. construct an educational evaluation proposal relating to the evaluation of an educational innovation.
