OTHER REQUIREMENTS

- 1 Compulsory attendance at performances to be advised.
- 2 The missing of more than two consecutive classes will require the production of a medical certificate.
- 3 Two of the main attributes of a theatre practitioner are commitment and flexibility. To that end all students in the Theatre Department are expected from time to time to work in a voluntary capacity as the need arises. However, within TPPAC 1 formal provision is made for the assessment of practical work. Practical work in this case meaning the carrying out of assigned duties associated with the mounting of a production. Such duties may include front of house, backstage crew for the direct running of the show, crew involved in the preparation and installation of the show, acting, community liaison or any activity deemed by the Department necessary to the preparation and performance of a project. The assessment weighting given to the practical component is 20% and will be calculated in hours worked. The minimum number of hours worked will be thirty. Consideration will also be given to normal professional theatre protocols, punctuality, co-operation, adherence to safe working practices and in the case of front of house duties, appropriate dress and demeanour. Broadly speaking Acting majors will be responsible for crew and front of house duties for the Shakespeare in the Park Festival. Acting students will also contribute to crew and front of house duties for the second major Arts theatre production. Theatre Studies and Bachelor of Drama/Bachelor of Education students will be responsible for duties associated with the children's theatre festival. Option students will be required to fulfil practical commitments as directed by TPPAC staff. Stage management students will be assessed on crew duties undertaken throughout the semester but fulfil at least two front of house duties.
