RATIONALE

Students contemplating undergraduate study at a tertiary institution are required to demonstrate certain prerequisite skills, knowledge and attitudes before they meet enrolment requirements considered to be appropriate for acceptance. Whilst the whole of the Tertiary Preparation Program provides for a variety of entrance standards, this course provides the core skills that all students need to acquire in order to successfully undertake further higher education studies. Central to this course is the concept that students should be able to take control of and manage their own learning, being confident in the decisions made and pathways selected. Also central is the notion that potential university students are expected to display a basic level of achievement in language skills. As the student population which undertakes a TPP is diverse in educational, social, geographical and economical circumstances, this course seeks to provide a broad base which allows each student to begin from their own personal standpoint and develop the necessary qualities required to reach the common goal of access to an undergraduate program. The course is designed to provide optimum flexibility for each student.

SYNOPSIS

Students progress through a program which requires them to manage their own learning and establish their own future goals through a process of self development. Career planning is a key component of the program. Effective study skills and attitudes will be developed and applied to areas of communication studies to prepare the student for entry into a tertiary undergraduate course. The language content is provided in a broad context to best enable students to continue in the career of their choice.

OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of this course students will have:

1. made informed choices about own career by undertaking a realistic vocational assessment of own self and available opportunities
2. managed own self-development through formal study by producing and evaluating a personal plan involving the development of study strategies

3. met the required academic criteria in areas of communications relevant to tertiary study.

- 2 Requirements for students to complete each assessment item satisfactorily:
The Examiner may permit a student to resubmit an assignment that has received less than 50% of the marks available for the assignment. Normally, a resubmitted assignment will receive no more than 50% of the marks available for the assignment. Students are reminded of the general requirement that, normally, every assessment item listed in these Course Specifications has to receive at least 50% of the marks available before a pass grade in the course will be awarded.
- 3 Penalties for late submission of required work:
If students submit assignments after the due date without prior approval then a penalty of 5% of the total marks available for the assignment may apply for each working day late.

Restricted Examination. In a Restricted Examination, candidates are allowed access to specific materials during the examination. The only materials that candidates may use in the restricted examination for this course are: English translation dictionaries (but not technical dictionaries). Students whose first language is not English, may, with the Course Team Leader's approval, take an appropriate non- electronic translation dictionary into the examination. This will be subject to perusal and, if it is found to contain annotations or markings that could give the candidate an unfair advantage, it may be removed from the candidate's possession until the appropriate disciplinary action is completed.

- 7 Examination period when Deferred/Supplementary examinations will be held:
Any Deferred or Supplementary examinations for this course will be held during the examination period at the end of the semester of the next offering of this course.

- 2 A student will be ineligible to receive a mark for the examination until all assignments required of the student have been received at USQ.
- 3 The due date for an assignment is the date by which a student must despatch the assignment to the USQ. The onus is on the student to provide proof of the despatch date, if requested by the Course Team Leader.
