RATIONALE

Beginning teachers report that there are significant differences between their experiences as pre-service teachers and those they encounter in the first year of teaching. The Graduate Internship provides a bridge between the more closely supervised professional attachment and the daunting first year of the teaching career. Learning to teach is a process that occurs over time and extends beyond the confines of this program and this course. However, the Graduate Internship provides a critical step in this continuum of learning. The Intern is fully immersed in the role of the teacher at the attachment site. Such immersion has the potential to provide the Intern with an authentic and accelerated understanding of the responsibilities, skills, attitudes and knowledge required of an emerging professional educator.

SYNOPSIS

Students deemed to have demonstrated appropriate levels of competence and professionalism will gain the authorisation of their host school to move from the Stage 2 Attachment to the Stage 3 Graduate Internship. In Queensland this will also require an internship authorisation from the Board of Teacher Registration - equivalent processes may be required in other jurisdictions. Graduate Interns will each undertake a teaching load equivalent to 50% of the normal load of a fulltime teacher (with the range of duties understood to involve the full repertoires of practice in which teachers engage in the school and professional community). The course provides for a minimum of 30 days of school-based teaching work in role of graduate intern. IMPORTANT NOTE: Working with Children: State law in Queensland requires that all adults (including university students, pre-service educators, trainers, vocational teachers, industry educators) working with children under the age of 18, in the State of Queensland*, obtain approval before commencing such work. Many education courses include a practical component (professional experience, project work, research, assessment etc.) that may require engagement with children under the age of 18. It is your responsibility to ensure that you possess a current suitability card (Blue Card) before commencing any practical components of this course. DO NOT PARTICIPATE IN ANY PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE WITH CHILDREN UNDER 18 UNLESS YOU POSSESS A CURRENT 'BLUE CARD'. For further information:
