RATIONALE

Aesthetics education is concerned with cultivating the capacity to regard art and non-art with a particular kind of imaginative attention, in order to become increasingly discriminating and critically reflective in one's responses. According to Abbs (1989), aesthetics is 'a particular mode of responding to and apprehending experience', and this 'mode of response operates through the senses and feelings'. In order to be able to support children's aesthetic development, teachers need to firstly develop their own understanding of aesthetics as a philosophy and to refine their own aesthetic perceptions and judgements through disciplined study and exercises.

SYNOPSIS

Through an exploration of significant writings on aesthetics and a range of practical experiences, this course aims to develop student's own knowledge and appreciation of aesthetics. Since the ability to appreciate art and non-art aesthetically is closely linked to the ability to think philosophically, this course requires students to engage in philosophical inquiry. Readings and practical exercises guide students through a program of work designed to challenge and extend student's aesthetic perceptions and judgements in relation to art and non-art. Students will also consider the implications of their own learning for early childhood education.

OBJECTIVES

The course objectives define the student learning outcomes for a course. The assessment item(s) that may be used to assess student achievement of an objective are shown in parenthesis. On successful completion of this course students will be able to:

1. demonstrate an understanding of the nature of aesthetics as a philosophy; (All assessment items)
2. make informed aesthetic judgements in relation to art and non-art; (Reflections, Essay)
3. critically analyse the literature associated with aesthetics; (Essay)
4. reflect on the implications of aesthetics for early childhood education. (Reflections)

5. demonstrate competence in written language and scholarly writing including correct spelling, grammar, and bibliographic referencing. (Reflections, Essay)

NOTES

1. APA style is the referencing system required in this course. Students should use APA style in their assignments to format details of the information sources they have cited in their work. The USQ library provides advice on how to format information sources using this system. http://www.usq.edu.au/library/help/ehelp/ref_guides/apastyle/default.htm

IMPORTANT ASSESSMENT INFORMATION

- 1 Attendance requirements:
There are no attendance requirements for this course. However, it is the students' responsibility to study all material provided to them or required to be accessed by them to maximise their chance of meeting the objectives of the course and to be informed of course-related activities and administration.
- 2 Requirements for students to complete each assessment item satisfactorily:
To complete each of the assessment items satisfactorily, students must obtain at least 50% of the marks available for each assessment item.
- 3 Penalties for late submission of required work:
If students submit assignments after the due date without (prior) approval of the examiner then a penalty of 5% of the total marks gained by the student for the assignment may apply for each working day late up to ten working days at which time a mark of zero may be recorded. No assignments will be accepted after model answers have been posted.
- 4 Requirements for student to be awarded a passing grade in the course:
To be assured of receiving a passing grade a student must achieve at least 50% of the total weighted marks available for the course.
- 5 Method used to combine assessment results to attain final grade:
The final grades for students will be assigned on the basis of the weighted aggregate of the marks obtained for each of the summative assessment items in the course.
- 6 Examination information:

There is no examination in this course.

- 7 Examination period when Deferred/Supplementary examinations will be held:
