Program focus

This program provides students with the opportunity to acquire a professional qualification in the practice of journalism across different media. It is aimed at students who want to master the skills and techniques of writing for a mass audience, and assumes they have no professional or academic qualifications in journalism or a related field.

Program aims

The Graduate Diploma of Journalism is a professional conversion program which aims to produce graduates who have an advanced understanding and appreciation of the requirements of a selected professional field and have the intellectual and practical skills necessary to apply knowledge in further study, research, employment, and community service. Students are advised that the program comprises courses from the undergraduate major in Journalism.

Program objectives

On successful completion of the program students should demonstrate:

- a knowledge of the principles, theoretical issues, and methodologies of scholarship and research in general and of Journalism in particular
- a development of professional competence in the discipline of Journalism.

Admission requirements

Entry Requirements to the Graduate Diploma of Journalism shall be a three-year Bachelor degree or equivalent at pass level or better. Applicants who have completed an undergraduate major in Journalism within the last 10 years are not eligible to apply.

International applicants must have met the University's English language requirements or have completed the University's ELICOS/EAP program.

How to apply

Domestic students

Application for postgraduate programs may be made directly to USQ. You should ensure you submit your application by the closing dates.

International students

This program is offered to international students. An international student is a person who is not an Australian or New Zealand citizen and not an Australian permanent resident. Please refer to USQ International for information about entry requirements, visa arrangements and how to apply.

Program fees

Domestic full fee paying place

Domestic full fee paying places are funded entirely through the full fees paid by the student. Full fees vary depending on the courses that are taken. You are able to calculate the fees for a particular course via the Course Fee Finder.

Domestic full fee paying students may be eligible to defer their fees through a Government loan called FEE-HELP.

International full fee paying place

International students pay full fees. Full fees vary depending on the courses that are taken and whether they are studied on-campus, via distance education/online. You are able to calculate the fees for a particular course via the Course Fee Finder.

Program structure

The Graduate Diploma of Journalism program consists of eight units of study.

Required time limits

Students have a maximum of 4 years to complete this program.
