Program focus

The program is designed to meet the professional and continuing education needs of a wide range of professionals in a variety of education-related settings and sectors. Facilitators of lifelong learning should have a clear understanding of the characteristics of adolescent and adult learners and the nature of learning processes utilised by them. Such appreciation will be contextualised by global trends (globalisation, individualisation, knowledge society, knowledge economy, global marketplace) which emphasise the key role of lifelong and life wide learning in contemporary societies. Such knowledge underpins the educator's capability to respond positively to dynamic learning futures. The main focus of the teaching and learning will be to develop critical thinking, intellectual engagement and the students' ability to design, develop, implement, manage and evaluate programs. A key feature of the program is that it prepares graduates who value diversity and inclusiveness, who are innovators and navigators of sustainable change. Students are encouraged to become engaged professionals and collaborative members of a learning community.

Program aims

The program is designed to meet the professional and continuing education needs of a wide range of professionals in a variety of education-related settings and sectors. Facilitators of lifelong learning should have a clear understanding of the characteristics of adolescent and adult learners and the nature of learning processes utilised by them. Such appreciation will be contextualised by global trends (globalisation, individualisation, workforce deregulation, knowledge society, knowledge economy, global marketplace) which emphasise the key role of lifelong and lifewide learning in contemporary societies. Such knowledge underpins the educator's capability to respond positively to dynamic learning futures. The main focus of the teaching and learning will be to develop critical thinking, intellectual engagement and the students' ability to design, develop, implement, manage and evaluate programs. Other applicants should apply for a postgraduate certificate.

International applicants must have met the University's English language requirements or have completed the University's ELICOS/EAP program.

Program fees

Commonwealth supported place

A Commonwealth supported place is where the Australian Government makes a contribution towards the cost of your higher education and you as a student pay a student contribution amount, which varies depending on the courses undertaken. You are able to calculate the fees for a particular course via the Course Fee Finder. Commonwealth Supported students may be eligible to defer their fees through a Government loan called HECS-HELP.

Domestic full fee paying place

Domestic full fee paying places are funded entirely through the full fees paid by the student. Full fees vary depending on the courses that are taken. You are able to calculate the fees for a particular course via the Course Fee Finder.

Domestic full fee paying students may be eligible to defer their fees through a Government loan called FEE-HELP.

International full fee paying place

International students pay full fees. Full fees vary depending on the courses that are taken and whether they are studied on-campus, via distance education/online. You are able to calculate the fees for a particular course via the Course Fee Finder.

Program structure

To be awarded a Masters degree in the Faculty of Education, a student must have completed eight education-related units at postgraduate level, of which at least four must be at level 8. Courses awarded as 'unspecified electives' through exemptions are classified as level 5 only.

It is the students' responsibility to ensure correct enrolment in the program structure to meet graduation requirements. While this program is offered with 2 possible pathways, it is classified by DEST as a course work Masters degree (refer to Table 1). Both pathways comprise foundation studies, professional studies, research/evaluation and projects. The coursework pathway offers the possibility for additional electives. Please consult the details for each pathway below. The program will be taken over a minimum period of two years of part-time external study or one year of full-time external study.

Table 1: Structure for the Coursework and Research Pathways

	Coursework Pathway	Research Pathway
Foundation Studies	Select a minimum of two courses	Select a minimum of one course
Professional Studies	Select a minimum of three courses	Select a minimum of three courses
Project	Select a minimum of one unit of project work	Select a minimum of two units of project work
