Program focus

The Postgraduate Certificate in Learning and Development recognises emerging trends in ‘non-traditional’ education-related workplace environments, and the associated roles within these environments. A key feature of this program is its flexibility in preparing graduates who value diversity and inclusiveness, and who are innovators and navigators of sustainable change. Learning is an individual as well as a social process, therefore the program may be adapted to suit the learner’s purpose, needs and context. Students are encouraged to focus on content based on their personal and professional needs, industry requirements and future career aspirations. To this end, students may customise their study by selecting courses from other faculties as part of their learner-designed program. Students are also encouraged to become collaborative members of a learning community.

Career opportunities

This program is designed for those in career transitions. Teaching and learning are increasingly viewed as central to the work of professionals and practitioners across a range of industry, organisational and community contexts whose responsibilities now include the facilitation and/or management of professional learning and development. It is this broad focus on lifelong learning that drives increased participation in learning in all its forms. This in turn creates a demand for professionals and practitioners who are able to effectively plan, design, develop, organise, manage, support, facilitate and evaluate effective and responsive programs and sequences of learning that support personal, professional and organisational development. For example, this may lead to positions such as: Education officer, Community development officer and Job placement officers and enhance the skills of those working with young children and their families, Unit leaders with responsibilities for organisational or developmental learning, and academics in the higher education sector.

Program aims

The aim of this program is to provide professionals in education, training and development with postgraduate-level coursework and scholarly opportunities that will engage educational issues that are relevant and meaningful to them and help to sustain their communities and fulfil their lives. The program therefore aims to:

- facilitate the development and consolidation of knowledge and skills in teaching and learning in community, professional and workplace learning settings that are informed by contemporary learning theory and futures-orientated approaches
- support the application of these knowledge and skills through learner-centred design, flexible delivery and individualised and authentic assessment to enhance quality of services for their learners
- provide opportunities for students to build a program of study to suit their own particular needs, professional and industry requirements and individual career paths

Program objectives

On successful completion of the Postgraduate Certificate in Learning and Development, students should be able to:

- critically analyse and contextualise knowledge relating to professional practice and sustainable engagement in educational sectors
- exhibit competence and commitment in pursuing personal lifelong learning goals of advanced scholarship in relation to their areas of specialisation
- articulate the local, provincial, national, regional and global dimensions of the work and identities of contemporary educators, trainers and developers
- demonstrate the capacity to add value to, and help to sustain contemporary learning communities

Student-Designed Customisation and Recommended Enrolment Patterns

Because the central focus of the program is on career transitions for those assuming broadly defined educator responsibilities, the default specialisation will be a student designed pattern. This customised pattern must follow the program structure outlined above. Students tailoring their study pattern through this option will not have a specialisation named on their testamur. Note: Students must submit a study plan for approval by the Program Administration.

Prescribed study patterns are listed in the Recommended Enrolment section of this Handbook. Students following the enrolment pattern of a specialisation will have the Specialisation named on their testamur.

Program completion requirements

Students are required to follow the recommended enrolment pattern for their selected specialisation or to tailor a “student-designed” enrolment pattern following the Program Structure guidelines.

Required time limits

Full-time enrolment normally requires one semester of study. Part-time enrolment may be extended to two years of study.

Major studies/specialisations

Because of the program focus, the default study pattern will be student-designed; a customised pattern following the program structure guidelines. Students who follow the recommended enrolment pattern for the following specialisations will have their specialisation named on their testamur.

Please select one of the following specialisations or refer to the Program Structure section of this Handbook to tailor your own study pattern via the student-designed customisation option.

- Adult Professional and Workplace Learning
- Career Development and Lifelong Learning
- Communities and Informal Learning
- Higher Education
- Learning Design
- Early Childhood
- Online and Distributed Learning
- Organisational Capacity Building

Practical experience

Practical experience is required and recommended in a limited number of specialisations: Adult, Professional and Workplace Learning and Early Childhood. Irrespective of level of academic performance achieved by students in these specialisations, no student will be eligible to graduate from the specialisation without satisfactorily demonstrating current professional competence against the performance criteria identified in the nominated courses.

Eligibility to Undertake Professional Experience in Queensland Educational Settings Under the terms of the Commission for Children and Young People Act (Qld. 2000), students undertaking professional experience are considered to be volunteers engaged in regulated employment. As such, all students working with children must apply to the Commission to be issued with a notice that they are suitable to work in child-related employment. As part of this application, the student must consent to the Commission conducting a criminal history check as the key element of the process of determining suitability. All applications for a suitability notice must be made at the local campus of the university at the commencement of their program. Students who do not make application, or who do apply but are subsequently deemed unsuitable, will not be able to undertake the professional experience components of the program.

Further information, including a list of serious offences which could lead to a child care student being deemed unsuitable, are available from the Commission's website at <http://www.ccypcg.qld.gov.au/employment/>

Students undertaking Professional Experience outside of Queensland will need to check the requirements for Professional Experience in their State or Country.

IT requirements

Students must have reliable and ready access to email and the internet. See <http://www.usq.edu.au/ict/students/standards/hardware.htm>

Articulation

The Postgraduate Certificate in Learning and Development articulates to the Master of Learning and Development, and on attaining at least a credit GPA (5.0), to the Master of Education Research.

Exemptions

The maximum exemptions granted will be no more than half of the program units (two units). Within this limit, exemptions will be granted for relevant studies successfully completed at postgraduate level in the last five years and may be considered for studies successfully completed in the last 10 years. In consideration of these guidelines, the following points warrant particular consideration:

- Transfer of credit from other incomplete USQ award programs may be permitted where there is similar or appropriate content.
- Advanced Standing for other formal awards from recognised educational institutions will be assessed using the Australian Qualification Framework's Recognition of Prior Learning principles (please see <http://www.aqf.edu.au/>).
- USQ participates in the Education Queensland Professional Development Pathways Program. Appropriate credit will be given through the scheme which is outlined at http://education.qld.gov.au/staff/development/employee/teachers/pd_pathways/pd_pathways_contact.html Applications for similarly assessed professional development offered in other jurisdictions are invited.
- Other completed and assessed professional development and workplace learning activities will attract credit into the program when assessed by Program Administration as equivalent to a full USQ course.

Students intending to apply for exemptions should seek advice from Program Administration before applying for exemptions, and follow the guidelines for credit for previous study or work.

Enrolment

Students will enrol in the Postgraduate Certificate in Learning and Development on either a full-time or a part-time basis. International on-campus students must be enrolled full-time.
