

The Last Green Leaf

written by
Rodolfo Espada Jr

Raped... abused... and devastated!
Once the living kingdom has been diversified
By oikos' or heaven's will
Youthful, unspoilt, pure, and tranquil.

Evolved ... survived... and struggled!
For 'singulus' ruled the living kingdom
Nuclear power, fuel, and industrial revolution
Enfolded in search for wealth and growth of nations.

Disaggregated...disunited... and polarised!
Yet unweary in sustaining lives
The living kingdom is confused, isn't it?
But embraced still in search for sustained development.

Isn't it the living kingdom our last green leaf?
And absolutely nothing else from outer space
The trees, the water, air, and the earth
Are the nature's wealth for human's sake.

Be peaceful, be calm, and be patient
How could that be if there is climate change?
Even microbes and insects are not at peace
Are we humans prepared for denouement?

The last green leaf is waiting
To cure its wounds
To nurture its roots
To bring back its fruits.

The living kingdom is watching
Over economics, science, and politics
For them to blend and be empathic
To save our last green leaf's fate.

It is our living kingdom
That has been raped, abused, and devastated
The last green leaf that will evolve, survive, and struggle
And above all else for human's sake(?).
