RATIONALE
It is recognized that many postgraduate students need the opportunity to explore or investigate a topic of their own choosing in order to link more closely their professional interests or needs to their course of studies. Project units are designed to provide such an opportunity.

SYNOPSIS
Students will, under the guidance of a member of staff, pursue an in-depth study of a topic relevant to the field of education, and in particular to the focus of the student's major study area. The type of study does not necessarily involve research, but should include a substantial investigatory component leading to the submission of a written research report, material production or essay demonstrating comprehensive and detailed coverage of major concepts, issues, and research/professional literature. All student project proposals will be the subject of a critical review and final topics may be the result of extensive lecturer-student negotiation.
OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of the project the students will have demonstrated the ability to plan, conduct and report on an investigation or other such scholarly activity focused on an issue or topic of significance in the field of education.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS

1. Student workload requirements are as required for the completion of the study and as negotiated between student and supervisor.

2. Marking criteria will depend upon the nature of individual projects and items may be given either numerical scores or letter grades.

3. The Course Examiner is responsible for awarding grades. Projects developed for EDU5351 will be examined initially by the student's supervisor. The supervisor will make a recommendation of a grade to the Course Examiner who will normally accept the recommended grade once all the requirements for the course are completed. Where the Course Examiner has any doubts about the appropriateness of the grade recommended by the supervisor the project is assessed by a second assessor nominated by the Course Examiner. The Course Examiner will then decide the grade taking into account both assessments.
