RATIONALE
The learning needs and styles of adults have been shown to differ significantly from the learning needs and styles of students below compulsory school attendance age. Teachers in post-compulsory education settings should have a clear understanding of the characteristics of adult learners and the nature of learning processes utilised by them. Such knowledge is an essential requirement if students are to improve their knowledge and skills in curriculum design, implementation and assessment.

SYNOPSIS
Within a framework of theories of human learning and adult development, this course will focus on the characteristics and learning needs of adult learners. In this course the students will develop an understanding of the learning characteristics of mature learners with particular emphasis on identifying the implications of these characteristics for curriculum design and instructional strategies at the post-compulsory level.

OBJECTIVES
On successful completion of this course learners will be able to:

- identify a wide range of characteristics of mature learners.
- identify types and components of learning processes utilised by mature learners.
- identify and analyse implications for teaching practices of interactions between learner-characteristics, learning processes and learning tasks in post-compulsory education.
