RATIONALE
It is essential that students have the ability to analyse the assumptions and practices of contemporary Australian education to ascertain 'why' and 'how' these may have arisen. An introduction to the different practices, ideas and theories throughout history, especially those concerning the nature of childhood, the nature of the particular society and the child's place in that society, will provide a much broader perspective on the role of the educative process. This will contribute to other studies in education and develop an understanding of the development of important educational ideas for non-education students.

SYNOPSIS
Students will be given the opportunity to study (a) various ideas, theories and practices concerning children, their place in society and their education; (b) how prevailing attitudes in a particular society have influenced why and how various educational systems and theories developed, and how changes in educational practices have taken place. Further, by examining various ideas developed throughout history by selected educational theorists, students will be able to identify theories underpinning many of the assumptions made about contemporary practices.

OBJECTIVES
Successful completion of this course will enable students to:

- become aware of differing assumptions about the nature of childhood, the child's place in society, and the role of education, from both a historical and contemporary perspective;
- relate these differing assumptions to various theories on education during selected periods of history;
• identify the relationship between various theories of education and the type of society in which they operate, from both a historical and contemporary perspective; and
• compare and contrast various educational theorists and theories, both historical and contemporary.

ASSESSMENT NOTES

1 The due date for an assignment is the date by which a student must despatch the assignment to the USQ. The onus is on the student to provide proof of the despatch date, if requested by the Examiner.

2 Students must retain a copy of each item submitted for assessment. This must be produced within five days if required by the Examiner. The student must retain this copy until the grade for this course has been finalised.

3 The examiner may grant an extension of the due date of an assignment in extenuating circumstances.

4 In the event that a due date for an assignment falls on a local public holiday in their area, such as a Show holiday, the due date for the assignment will be the next working day. Students are to note on the assignment cover the date of the public holiday for the Examiner's convenience.

5 Students who have undertaken all of the required assessments in a course but who have failed to meet some of the specified objectives of a course within the normally prescribed time may be awarded the temporary grade: IM (Incomplete - Make up). An IM grade will only be awarded when, in the opinion of the examiner, a student will be able to achieve the remaining objectives of the course after a period of non-directed personal study.

6 Students who, for medical, family/personal, or employment-related reasons, are unable to complete an assignment or to sit for an examination at the scheduled time may apply to defer an assessment in a course. Such a request must be accompanied by appropriate supporting documentation. One of the following temporary grades may be awarded IDS (Incomplete - Deferred Examination); IDM (Incomplete Deferred Make-up); IDB (Incomplete - Both Deferred Examination and Deferred Make-up).

7 When there is more than one marker for a single item of assessment, the distributed patterns and means for the different markers will be compared and marks adjusted if necessary.

8 The Faculty will normally only accept assessments that have been written, typed or printed on paper-based media.

9 Marking criteria are provided in course material as mark sheets/guides or as part of assignment specifications.

10 All assessment items must be attempted/submitted with a pass overall gained.

11 Summative assessment items will receive a numerical score. Any ungraded assessment requirement will receive a Pass, Fail or Incomplete.

12 Final year Education students and Bachelor of Education Studies students must attempt this course as a Level 4. All other students must undertake this course as a Level 1, unless directed otherwise by the course examiner.

13 Students undertaking this course at Level 4 will be expected to complete the course requirements at a higher level than Level 1 students. Level 4 students will complete the appropriate assessment tasks at a more advanced level by drawing on experiences and knowledge gained from Education courses already completed. This will be demonstrated both through a more in-depth analysis of relevant material.
for the essay question. The different expectations for Level 1 and Level 4 students are clearly outlined and explained further in the Assessment section of the Introductory Booklet.
