SYNOPSIS
Cadastral surveying refers to those surveys involving the definition of land boundaries and requires a thorough knowledge of the current system for the registration of land. The majority of survey graduates will have some involvement with cadastral surveying during their career, if not for the whole of their careers, and must be introduced to the underlying principles as early as possible.

OBJECTIVES
On completion of this course, students should be able to:

- describe the ownership and possession of land and other property in a legal context;
- understand and apply statutory law relating to cadastral surveying as set out in various Acts and Regulations;
- outline the system of land registration in common use throughout Australia and list its benefits;
- illustrate the importance of cadastral surveying in the land registration process;
- demonstrate an understanding of the rights and responsibilities of cadastral surveyors;
- identify different types of cadastral surveys;
- describe historical survey requirements in Queensland including marking requirements;
- describe current survey requirements in Queensland including marking requirements;
• employ sound field measuring techniques and field checking procedures on cadastral surveys;
• interpret and analyse a cadastral survey plan;
• perform cadastral boundary reinstatement calculations for both rural and urban surveys;
• list and apply fundamental 'rules' of reinstatement;
• apply recommended plan drafting practices to the presentation of cadastral survey data.

ASSESSMENT NOTES

1 The due date for an assignment is the date by which a student must despatch the assignment to the USQ. The onus is on the student to provide proof of the despatch date, if requested by the Examiner.

2 Students must retain a copy of each item submitted for assessment. This must be produced within five days if required by the Examiner.

3 In accordance with University's Assignment Extension Policy (Regulation 5.6.1), the examiner of a course may grant an extension of the due date of an assignment in extenuating circumstances.
4 The Faculty will normally only accept assessments that have been written, typed or printed on paper-based media.

5 The Faculty will NOT accept submission of assignments by facsimile.

6 Students who do not have regular access to postal services or who are otherwise disadvantaged by these regulations may be given special consideration. They should contact the examiner of the course to negotiate such special arrangements.

7 In the event that a due date for an assignment falls on a local public holiday in their area, such as a Show holiday, the due date for the assignment will be the next day. Students are to note on the assignment cover the date of the public holiday for the Examiner’s convenience.

A temporary grade will only be awarded when, in the opinion of the examiner, a student will be able to achieve the remaining objectives of the course after a period of non directed personal study.

Such a request must be accompanied by appropriate supporting documentation. One of the following temporary grades may be awarded IDS (Incomplete - Deferred Examination; IDM (Incomplete Deferred Make-up); IDB (Incomplete - Both Deferred Examination and Deferred Make-up).
