REQUISITES
Pre-requisite: Students must be enrolled in one of the following Programs: BFET or ADFT or BEFT or GDFT

OTHER-REQUISITES
Students who have previously completed USQ81207 may not enrol in this course.

RATIONALE
This course introduces the learner to curriculum design processes as a basis for analysing course/standards documentation in order to design and implement a program of instruction within their local context.

SYNOPSIS
In this course learners will examine sources, models and contexts of curriculum design to enable them to analyse the course/standards documentation relevant to their context. Using such documentation students will design, implement and justify a program of instruction (series of integrated sessions) within their instructional setting and critically analyse both their decision-making processes and instructional outcomes. NOTE: Students enrolling in this course should have access to an actual instructional program in an approved education or training situation.

OBJECTIVES
On successful completion of this course students will be able to:
1. demonstrate an understanding of foundations, sources and models of curriculum development through an analysis of context specific documentation;
2. demonstrate an ability to design and implement a program of instruction based on a nominated curriculum document to meet identified learner needs; and
3. critically analyse and justify instructional design and implementation decision-making.
