RATIONALE
Rapid changes in secondary schools and the growing diversity of contexts place intense demands on the role of teachers. This course provides further professional (field) experience in a new context. The student will have further opportunity for bringing together both theory and practical components of the program. The integration of the theory with the active daily tasks associated with a teaching career is an essential step in the transition from tertiary institution to the professional work place.

SYNOPSIS
The in-school experience to date has enabled students to be involved in the normal day to day running of a school in one context. This course offers the student an extensive period in the field in a new context. The professional experience will require involvement in the planning and implementation of courses of work along with the daily administrative and professional requirements of a teacher. The experience will require pre-service teachers to play an active role in the construction of their own practical theories. Their in-school experience will enable them to question, criticize and reformulate their assumptions about the nature of teachers’ work.

OBJECTIVES
On completion of this course students will be able:

- to provide professional experience in a variety of contexts;
to develop students ability to analyse their own practice for improvement;
to develop students ability to observe research, analyse and reflect on their own and others' practice in a collaborative manner;
to develop a student ability to contextualise practice;
to make the student aware professional of development and trends affecting both the teaching profession and their own specialist teaching areas;
to make the student aware of, and analyse equity issues which impinge upon the teaching-learning process, teaching practice and the contexts of schooling.
