SYNOPSIS

In this course, students will, under guidance of a member of staff, pursue and report upon an in-depth project related to their Professional Studies Option. Whilst the type of study need not necessarily involve the design of an instructional program or the conducting of research, students will be required to engage in a critical review of literature pertaining to their topic and an investigative or design component in which they seek to integrate theory and practice in the design, implementation and reporting of their project. NOTES: 1) Students undertaking this course as part of the Bachelor of Education (Further Education and Training) with the intention of Seeking Teacher Registration in Queensland must focus their work in this course on an instructional project or on a project directly related to an issue or development in curriculum or instruction in the formal education system. 2) Irrespective of the nature of the project undertaken, students will be required to provide evidence of maintenance of current competence in actual instructional activities undertaken during the period of their enrolment in this course.
OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of this course students will be able to:

- demonstrate the ability to plan, conduct and report on investigation or other such approved scholarly activity focused on a substantial instructional project, activity, issue or topic of significance in the area of the students' Professional Studies Option;
- demonstrate an ability to design and implement successful teaching-learning activities.
