REQUISITES
Pre-requisite: Students must be enrolled in one of the following Programs: MNRS or MNRH or PCNP or PDEV or SING

OTHER REQUISITES
The enrolling student must be a Registered Nurse.

RATIONALE
To practice effectively in rural and remote areas, nurses must develop an understanding of the socio-cultural and geographic features that affect health and health care provision in rural and remote communities. Using a 'burden of disease' framework allows nurses to appreciate the key health issues confronting rural and remote peoples, and be able to respond appropriately. A working knowledge of cultural awareness and safety principles are required skills for nurses providing care to Indigenous Australians and non-English speaking background individuals and groups within rural and remote communities.

SYNOPSIS
This course contains two modules of study which together provide registered nurses with a detailed exploration of the context of rural and remote area practice including the legal, ethical and professional frameworks governing and directing rural and remote area nursing practice; an analysis of the 'burden of disease' for rural and remote peoples; an awareness of the cultural safety principles, and an understanding of the primary health care and social justice approaches to rural and remote area health care delivery.
OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of this course students will be able to:

1. analyse the influence of geography, and the socio-cultural contexts of rural and remote communities, on the health and wellbeing of people living in these communities (Assignment - Case Study 1);
2. critically assess the effects of health policy and health service provision on the health and wellbeing of rural and remote peoples (Assignments - Case Study 1 and 2);
3. articulate and work within the professional, legal and ethical frameworks guiding the practice of registered nurses in rural and remote practice areas (Assignment - Case Study 1);
4. use a 'burden of disease' framework to explore the key health issues confronting rural and remote communities (Assignment - Case Study 1);
5. evaluate theories of culture as they relate to multicultural health care provision (Assignment - Case Study 2);
6. utilise knowledge of cultural issues and their impact on individuals, groups and communities when providing health care (Assignment - Case Study 2);
7. explain how application of respect for the common cultural and legal rights as well as customary law of individuals and groups can influence the appropriateness of health care (Assignment - Case Study 2).

ASSESSMENT NOTES

9 The due date for an assignment is the date by which a student must despatch the assignment to the USQ. The onus is on the student to provide proof of the despatch date, if requested by the Examiner.

10 If requested, students will be required to provide a copy of assignments submitted for assessment purposes. Such copies should be despatched to USQ within 24 hours of receipt of a request being made.

11 The examiner may grant an extension of the due date of an assignment in extenuating circumstances.

12 The Faculty will normally only accept assessments that have been written, typed or printed on paper-based media.

13 Students who do not have regular access to postal services or who are otherwise disadvantaged by these regulations may be given special considerations. They should contact the examiner of the course to negotiate such special arrangements.

14 In the event a due date for an assignment falls on a local public holiday in their area, such as a Show holiday, the due date for the assignment will be the next day. Students are to note on the assignment cover sheet the date of the public holiday for the Examiner's convenience.

15 Students who have undertaken all of the required assessments in a course but who have failed to meet some of the specified objectives of a course within the normally prescribed time may be awarded the temporary grade: IM (Incomplete Makeup). An IM grade will only be awarded when, in the opinion of the examiner, a student will be able to achieve the remaining objectives of the course after a period of non-directed personal study.

Such a request must be accompanied by appropriate supporting documentation. One of the following temporary grades may be awarded: IDS (Incomplete - Deferred Examination; IDM (Incomplete Deferred Make-up); IDB (Incomplete - Both deferred Examination and Deferred Makeup).
