SYNOPSIS

This course examines the institutional and rhetorical structuring of communication in the exercise of power and control in society. OBJECTIVES

On successful completion of this course students will have:

1. An appreciation of the range of ways in which communication affects social control.
2. An ability to conduct a library search on a topic of their own choosing.
3. An ability to critically assess particular communicative situations in terms of their social power relations and their ethical implications.
4. An understanding of the theories and concepts relating to communication and social control.
