Program focus

The Master of Professional Studies is designed to enable professionals to engage in the highest form of authentic learning: to study as they engage in real world, real time activity; and to combine their work and study in ways that lead to benefits for both the individual and the organisation.

Accordingly, the program aims to provide opportunities for professionals with the appropriate entry qualifications to gain post-graduate qualifications and enable them to critically review literature to address theoretical and practical questions and issues in their workplace field, and to design and implement projects to further investigate these questions and issues. An essential feature of this program is that participants continue their employment while undertaking projects which integrate disciplined enquiry with complex practical work issues.

Program aims

The program aims to provide opportunities for professionals with the appropriate entry qualifications to gain postgraduate qualifications and enable them to critically review literature to address theoretical and practical questions and issues in their workplace field, and to design and implement projects to further investigate these questions and issues. An essential feature of this program is that participants continue their employment while undertaking projects which integrate disciplined enquiry with complex practical work issues.

Program objectives

Successful completion of the program will enable graduates to:

- demonstrate analytical, critical and creative thinking in workplace applications;
- postulate directions for the investigation of unsolved problems in their workplace;
- undertake and write reports on projects relating to their workplace in a professional manner;
- demonstrate a high level of skill in identifying, choosing and implementing procedures appropriate for addressing hypotheses;
- demonstrate an awareness of the limitations of their projects and manage these limitations;
demonstrate a high level of skill in assessing and addressing ethical/confidential concerns in their study and related work activity;
● report the results of their projects concerning changes to their workplace in a manner appropriate to their audience; and
● develop a workplace-based learning plan that integrates theory and practice.

Admission requirements
Admission is by completed online application and interview. To be considered for entry, an applicant must normally possess a bachelor degree from an Australian university or equivalent, and have the equivalent of at least five years' experience in their field. Anyone wishing to gain entry to the program on the basis of equivalent qualifications and/or experience should contact the University for consideration for admission on this basis.

Program fees
Domestic full fee paying place
Domestic full fee paying places are funded entirely through the full fees paid by the student. Full fees vary depending on the courses that are taken. You are able to calculate the fees for a particular course via the Course Fee Finder. Domestic full fee paying students may be eligible to defer their fees through a Government loan called FEE-HELP provided they meet the residency and citizenship requirements. Australian citizens, Permanent Humanitarian Visa holders, Permanent Resident visa holders and New Zealand citizens who will be resident outside Australia for the duration of their program pay full tuition fees and are not eligible for FEE-HELP.

International full fee paying place
International students pay full fees. Full fees vary depending on the courses that are taken and whether they are studied on-campus, via distance education/online. You are able to calculate the fees for a particular course via the Course Fee Finder.

Required time limits

Students have a maximum of 3 years to complete this program.

IT requirements

Computer literacy is now expected as part of professional life, and as an integral element in the studying and learning process. Many courses make use of the Internet through online discussion groups and course web pages. Some courses require substantial access to a computer because computer software of CD-ROMs are integral to the material being taught in the course. Students will be required to make use of up-to-date computer technology to facilitate learning, research, and the production of assessment material.

Students are referred to recommended hardware and software requirements at http://www.usq.edu.au/current-students/support/computing/hardware. Twenty-four hour computer access is available at USQ.

Exit points

The exit point for students who do not complete the requirements of the MPRS Master of Professional Studies is the . Students will be eligible for this award if, whilst enrolled in the Master of Professional Studies , they have completed at least 4 units including, WRP8000 Fundamentals of Professional Studies and two other units from the WRP courses in the student's approved Learning Plan.

Exemptions

The Learning Portfolio developed in WRP8000 Fundamentals of Professional Studies may be submitted for formal assessment of prior learning. Assessment of the Learning Portfolio is the only method of applying for consideration for exemptions for this program. The number of credits granted will vary according to both the level of formal qualifications gained and to the deemed level of informal experience and expertise that can be shown to be of relevance to the program within the portfolio. Credit granted may be non-course specific.

USQ is a participating university in the Professional Development Pathways initiative, and appropriate credit will be given in accordance with the scheme. For further information on this initiative please contact http://education.qld.gov.au/staff/development/employee/teachers/pd_pathways/pd_pathways_contact.html

Recommended enrolment pattern

Students may be admitted to the program at the beginning of Semester 1 or Semester 2.

Students should undertake the course WRP8000 Fundamentals of Professional Studies before enrolling in any other courses in the program.

It is possible to take courses during Semester 3 if a candidate wishes to accelerate progression through the program.
