Program objectives

Students who successfully complete the Graduate Certificate of Education (Guidance and Counselling) will have acquired advanced knowledge and understanding of key issues and trends within contemporary education and within the specialised area of guidance and counselling. Graduates will be able to:

- (1) define, critically evaluate and apply key concepts in collaborative consultation including the micro-skills for communication
- (2) demonstrate an understanding of the concept of career, the changing nature of the world of work, and how it relates to career guidance, careers education and career development
- (3) compare and contrast major theories of career development and analyse implications for approaches to career development, guidance and education
- (4) identify and articulate the interrelationships between lifelong learning, life-wide learning, and learning futures
- (5) apply practical skills in case management for education contexts and professional practice.

Program aims

The Graduate Certificate of Education (Guidance and Counselling) provides you with the foundational knowledge and practices to extend your teaching career to become a guidance officer, guidance counsellor or school counsellor. This graduate certificate is an entry point to the Master of Education (Guidance and Counselling), which equips graduates to develop the research skills that can be applied to a research project in guidance and counselling work contexts.

Students planning to work as a Guidance Officer in Education Queensland's state schools usually require registration as a teacher in addition to the Master of Education (Guidance and Counselling). Counselling roles in schools in the Independent or Catholic sectors in Queensland may have different requirements. You should check the requirements with your prospective employer.

Australian Qualifications Framework

The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) is a single national, comprehensive system of qualifications offered by higher education institutions (including universities), vocational education and training institutions and secondary schools. Each AQF qualification has a set of descriptors which define the type and complexity of knowledge, skills and application of knowledge and skills that a graduate who has been awarded that qualification has attained, and the typical volume of learning associated with that qualification type.

This program is at AQF Qualification Level 09. Graduates at this level will have specialised knowledge and skills for research, and/or professional practice and/or further learning.

The full set of levels criteria and qualification type descriptors can be found by visiting www.aqf.edu.au.

Admission requirements

To be eligible for admission, applicants must satisfy the following requirements:

- 3-year bachelor degree from an Australian university, or equivalent.
- English Language Proficiency requirements for Category 3.

For applicants who have a bachelor degree or equivalent (AQF level 7) in a non-related discipline from a recognised institution, the Graduate Certificate of Education (Guidance and Counselling) provides a pathway into the Master of Education. Upon completion and achievement of a minimum GPA of 4.0, students will be eligible for entry into the Master of Education.

Students who complete the Graduate Certificate of Education (Guidance and Counselling) and maintain satisfactory academic standing (GPA 3.5) but do not achieve a GPA of 4.0 can articulate into the Graduate Diploma of Education. On successful completion of the Graduate Diploma of Education, students can articulate into the Master of Education provided other program entry requirements are met.

All students are required to satisfy the applicable English language requirements.

If students do not meet the English language requirements they may apply to study a University-approved English language program. On successful completion of the English language program, students may be admitted to an award program.
